The Camellia Society of Central Florida (CSCF) members are interested in growing, propagating and learning more about camellias, plants which are perfect for our climate. The society is open to all and composed of people from all walks of life.

We meet monthly in the main building at Harry P. Leu Gardens on the first Thursday of each month from September through May at 7:00pm. You are welcome to learn with us about these wonderful plants, whether a novice or experienced gardener.

The third weekend of January is a very special times for CSCF. We host the annual Camellia Show, a tradition for over 60 years. The two day show draws judges, growers and novices from across the southeast, offering a spectacle of over 1000 prize winning blooms to enjoy.
